Android Device tips/tricks at the Library

Learn how to make use of the free mobile resources the library has to offer on your Android device. We'll show you some of our favorite apps and teach some useful tips and tricks as well. Please come with your device and make sure you have your Google Play account set up so we can do some hands on exercises together.

Drop In Help Lab

The Help Lab provides an opportunity for more help from library staff to answer your questions. Get help with eBooks using Kindles, NOOKs, or iPads as well as a computer or listening device. We also typically answer questions about email, uploading photos, setting up personal budgets, word processing and file management questions. Any question is welcome and this is a good time to get longer one-on-one help from library experts.

eBooks from the Library Series:

Enki eBooks

Enki is a new eBook platform created by libraries in California with great content purchased directly from Indie publishers. Thousands of books are available for your Android, iOS device or computer!
Please BYOD (Bring your own device) if you have one that you wish to use.

eAudiobooks from the Library: NorCal Digital

Learn about our eAudiobooks offerings from Northern California Digital Library. How to find, download and enjoy your audiobooks on the go without needing to keep track of all those CD's!
Please BYOD (Bring your own device) if you have one that you wish to use.

eAudiobooks from the Library: Recorded Books

OneClickdigital is an audiobook resource created by Recorded Books. Thousands of books are available for your Android, iOS device or computer! Please BYOD (Bring your own device)

Finding Online Medical Information You Can Trust

Have you ever "Googled" a health topic only to receive hundreds of links to various websites? It's difficult to know what is reliable and what is not. Join Kaiser Permanente Medical Librarian, Beverly McLeod, PhD, MLIS, in a hands-on computer training about how to find trustworthy medical info online.

Please contact: Amy.L.Aken@kp.org for more information.

iPad/iPhone Tips/Tricks at the Library

Learn how to make use of the free mobile resources the library has to offer on your iOS device. We'll show you some of our favorite apps and teach some useful tips/tricks as well. Please bring your device and make sure you have your Apple ID/password on hand to get the most out of this class.

Increase your productivity with Google Docs

Learn how to create and edit documents online and offline, for free. With Google Docs, you can write, edit, and collaborate wherever you are. You need a Google account to use Google Docs. If you don't have one already, just go to google.com and sign up for free. Want more advanced Google Apps training? Robert Zylstra, guest teacher, offers Google Apps classes at Santa Clara Adult Education. Learn more at www.santaclaraadulted.org.

Search Tips for the New Heritage Quest Online

ProQuest will release a new Heritage Quest Online, powered by Ancestry in early March. Fully indexed U.S. Census records from 1790-1940 will be complete and available remotely. Also new are maps, research aids and additional non-population census records including the Indian Census. Come to this class to get familiar with searching this enhanced product. Remember you can use it for free with your library card in the library or at home. There will be time for hands-on practice

Streaming Media and Your Library

Do you want to listen to that new popular musician everyone is talking about? Would you like to see all those short films and documentaries that win awards but never make it to your nearest theater? We can help you on both accounts. Come learn Freegal and Indieflix, our music and movie streaming services. Both are available to you, for free, with your Santa Clara City Library card.

Zinio e Magazines

Learn how to view the Library's full digital copies of your favorite magazines. Read magazines online or download issues to your computer or mobile device to read offline. Yes! We now have a collection of over 100 digital magazine subscriptions available to you for free! Issues may be read on a wide variety of computer platforms and mobile devices (iOS and Android apps are available.)
